RE: Consumer Education Related to Policies to Mitigate Potential Electricity Price Increases

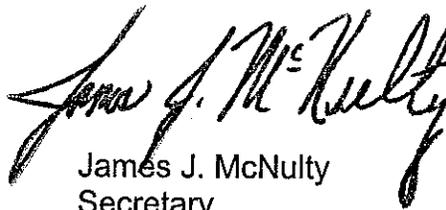

Pursuant to the Final Order of May 10, 2007, related to mitigation of potential electricity price increases (Docket No. M-00061957), the Public Utility Commission directed its Office of Communications to convene a meeting of interested stakeholders within 60 days to develop a statewide consumer-education campaign to prepare electricity ratepayers for potential increases, as well as provide information about energy efficiency, conservation and demand side response.

An initial meeting of interested stakeholders will be held on Tuesday, June 19, from 10 a.m. to noon in Hearing Room 1 of the Commonwealth Keystone Building.

The purpose of the meeting is to lay the groundwork for subsequent meetings, solicit initial feedback from participants, and begin to draft an implementation plan for the campaign.

Please direct all questions related to the meeting to Lynn Williams in the Commission's Office of Communications at 717-787-5724.

Sincerely,

James J. McNulty
Secretary
