Re: Winter Reliability Meeting

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission's Winter Reliability Meeting will be held on November 9, 2011 at 1:30 p.m. in Hearing Room No. 1, Commonwealth Keystone Building, 400 North Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. The information shared during this meeting will provide a snapshot of various conditions that may affect supply, price and service reliability of natural gas over the upcoming winter.

Presentations or other informational materials will be offered by the Energy Association of Pennsylvania; UGI Utilities, Inc.; Spectra Energy Transmission, LLC; UGI Energy Services, Inc. and Commission staff. Topics covered during the meeting will include natural gas supply, storage, demand and price; Marcellus shale and propane.

If you have any questions concerning this meeting or the attached agenda, please feel free to call Darren Gill at 717-783-5244.

Sincerely,
