Re: Docket No. M-2015-2468991 -- Account Number Access Mechanism Data Request

Dear Secretary Chiavetta:

Enclosed for filing is Duquesne Light Company's responses to the Office of Competitive Market Oversight's data request dated February 26, 2015 relating to the Account Number Access Mechanism Tool at Docket No. M-2015-2468991.

The responses to the data request were due on March 12, 2015, but the Company was unaware of this data request until March 20, 2015. When the Company became aware of the request, it has worked to get these responses filed as quickly as possible.

If you have any questions regarding this filing, please contact Ribeka Garrity at 412-393-6099 or rgarrity@duqlight.com.

Sincerely,

Robert H. Hoaglund II
Assistant General Counsel, PA Regulatory

Docket No. M-2015-2468991
Account Number Access Mechanism
Data Request

Duquesne Light Company Response

1. Please provide the date the account number access mechanism was made available for EGS use.
 - The account number access mechanism was first made available for EGS use on October 31, 2014.
2. Please provide the total costs, to date, of the account number access mechanism. These costs should include, but may not be limited to, implementation costs and any applicable maintenance costs incurred to date.
 - To date, the cost of the account number access mechanism tool, which does not include internal labor, is approximately $94,000. No maintenance costs have been incurred to date.
3. Please provide the number of EGSs (or EGS representatives) registered (i.e. provided the appropriate login information for access) to use the account number mechanism to date.
 - The Company does not have any EGSs registered to use the account number access mechanism.
4. Please provide the number of attempted access to the account number access mechanism, to date. This would include both those attempts that are rejected and those that match the customer's account information and therefore result in the provision of an account number.
 - N/A – please see the response to #3.
5. Please provide the number of successful attempts, to date, that result in an account number that was already available to the EGSs through the eligible customer list (ECL).
 - N/A – please see the response to #3.
6. Should an EDC be unable to provide a response to any of the above questions, please explain. If you anticipate the information available in the future, briefly explain when that information may be available.
 - N/A – please see the response to #3.
